

"You Will Give Them Back"

Best known and why—because it is part of the story—the great, absorbing, heart-breaking, thrilling film version of

Sherlock Holmes

Starring the actor who played the part in the original story—William Gillette

SEE IT AT THE
WASHINGTON THEATRE
MONDAY, JUNE 5

Photoplay enthusiasts all over the country have expressed their surprise and delight at the appearance on the screen of William Gillette in his original role of "Sherlock Holmes." The well-known fact that this great actor had repeatedly refused motion picture offers adds to the interest in the film. Mr. Gillette had just closed an unusually successful season on the stage and went to Esanay immediately after his last performance. The popularity awaiting him was a picture of his gripping drama was recognized by producers for some time, and the fact that Esanay obtained the right to the play and the consent of the stage star to portray the role was considered somewhat of a triumph.

William Gillette has had a stage career rivaled by few actors of all time. He was born in Hartford, Conn., July 24, 1855, the son of Francis Gillette, a United States Senator. An older brother, Edward Hooker Gillette, also entered politics and served in Congress as a representative from Iowa, whence he had come from New England.

Following graduation from a preparatory school, young Gillette chose the stage as his work, and played in stock while continuing his education with special courses at the University of New York, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Boston University. In 1877 he undertook theatrical work exclusively and played with stock companies successively at New Orleans, New York, Boston, Cincinnati and Louisville.

By this time he had won national recognition and he decided to attempt the staging of several plays he had written himself. This he did with encouraging success and since he has written everything in which he has appeared.

"Sherlock Holmes" added to his fame, and later "Secret Service" upheld the reputation he had won. Mr. Gillette is ideally suited to an active drama of tense situation, and the screen undoubtedly has added to rather than detracted from the original.

SPEAKING OF PERSISTENCY

Spokane, Washington, May 31—For downright persistency "Uncle Lew" Wilmot, veteran of the Nez Perce Indian war of 1877, is entitled to a medal.

Thirty-eight years ago, when "Uncle Lew" was only 40 years old, he tried to get the war department to adopt a rifle sight which he firmly believed would increase the efficiency of the army 50 per cent. Now his white hair and beard flow down to his neck and conceal his collar, but he and his rifle sight are still live issues.

The old man can shoot a rifle straight—there is no doubt about that. A trunk full of medals attests to that fact, and Wilmot still follows the rule he adopted in bird shooting 60 years ago, "Through the head of no meat." Just before the soldiers left Spokane for the Mexican border two weeks ago, "Uncle Lew" and his rifle performed on the army range at Fort George Wright. The white haired veteran made better marks than the best riflemen at the post could make. Some of the boys in blue took Wilmot's rifle and bettered their own marks made with the army rifles. The showing was so impressive that one of the officers stated in a letter to the military affairs committee of the Spokane Chamber of Commerce that "the Lyman sight as adopted to the United States magazine rifle by Mr. Lew Wilmot is a great improvement over the sights now in use on that rifle."

After 38 years Lew Wilmot at last is hopeful that his sights will be adopted. "I don't want and shall not take a cent for my pains," said Mr. Wilmot. "I am confident that the sights I am using will increase the shooting efficiency of the army 50 per cent. This is enough for me."

KOREAN SCHOOL BOYS IN VOL-UNTEER EVANGELISM

Twenty-two of the leading boys of the Anglo-Korean School, an institution of the M. E. Church, South, in Korea, spent the winter vacation doing volunteer evangelistic work in the country. They came back with a glowing report of backsliders reclaimed, weak churches enthused, and ninety-three new believers enrolled.

A MERCILESS JUDGE

One Who Shows No Favor.

A merciless judge is Father Time. Before him the weak and wanting go to the wall. Only the truth can stand. For years the following statement from a Maysville resident has withstood this sternest of all tests.

Frederick Dresel, (tailor, 1233 E. Second St., Maysville, Ky.), says: "I was troubled with inflammation of the bladder and an annoyance from my kidneys. The passages of the kidney secretions were irregular and I had a severe pain across the small of my back which interfered with my duties. When a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box at Wood & Son's Drug Store. They gave me prompt relief."

OVER THREE YEARS LATER Mr. Dresel said: "Since I used Doan's Kidney Pills, I have not had any kidney trouble nor have I had to take a kidney medicine in that time."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Dresel has twice publicly recommended. Buffalo, N. Y.

MULES, DOGS AND DEAD PERSONS MUST BE STRICKEN FROM POLL BOOKS.

Charleston, W. Va., May 31—Because the supreme court of this state is convinced a large number of mules, dogs and dead persons are registered as actual voters and that many fictitious names are on the registry list, the court late yesterday awarded a peremptory writ of mandamus, commanding the county court of Mingo to meet forthwith and strike from the registration list for the lower Red Jacket precinct of that county a large number of many illegal voters. The petition was filed by Harry Chalfin, who declared to the higher court on behalf of Democratic voters that with the dogs, mules and corpses on the registration lists "it will be impossible to hold a fair election."

AGED WOMAN PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Wilson Smith Dies Suddenly at Her Home Sunday Afternoon.

(Dover News)

Mrs. Nancy Ann Smith, wife of Mr. Wilson Smith, died at their home just east of Dover at 5:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. She had been a sufferer from organic heart disease for two years, but was in her usual health Sunday, and had left the supper table just a few minutes before she passed away.

Deceased was the daughter of James and Rachel Davidson and was born November 4, 1832, in Brown county, O. She was, consequently, 83 years, 6 months and 24 days of age at the time of her death. She was united in marriage September 25, 1851, to Mr. Wilson Smith, who survives her and with whom she has lived happily for sixty-five years. To this union were born one son, Oscar, who died forty years ago, and one daughter, Miss India, now Mrs. C. M. DeVore, of this community, who also survives. The family moved from Brown county to their present home near Dover in 1886. Mrs. Smith was a devoted wife and faithful helpmate and fortune smiled upon the family. They shared their spacious home with Mr. and Mrs. DeVore and during her declining days Mrs. Smith received the constant and loving care that only devoted children can give. She united with the Christian church in early childhood and lived an upright Christian life. She enjoyed the respect and esteem of all with whom she came in contact. To the daughter and to the aged husband, particularly, in their bereavement, is extended the sympathy of the entire community.

Funeral services, conducted by Rev. Pross, pastor of the Ripley Christian church, were held at the residence Tuesday morning and later in the day at Pisgah church, Brown county. The remains were laid to rest in Pisgah cemetery, followed to the grave by a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends.

FRUIT AND ECONOMY

The prospect for a generously sufficient crop of fruits of various kinds is said by the expert forecasters to be good. Cherries, peaches, plums, apples and the berries are expected to be plentiful. With this in mind, the federal government bureaus concerned with such matters and societies of one kind and another formed for the betterment of living conditions are urging that time be taken by the forelock and preparations made for conserving more of the fruit crop than ever heretofore. All of us know that the waste in our fruits is enormous.

Before autumn is again at hand it is predicted that the cost of living will be even greater. All the staples, it is said, will advance in price, and, at the same time, everything required by human beings, not only to feed them, but to clothe and shelter them, will follow the upward course of the food cost. The dollar that buys less now than it bought a year ago is likely to buy still less six months hence. Nor is there any prospect of a downward trend within the year. Even should peace come to Europe, it is the opinion of those well qualified to judge that high prices will continue.

There is, accordingly, more need now than in the past to make provision for the future. And more need to put an end to the extravagance and waste that hitherto have marked our handling of the fruit crops especially. There should be few reports this year of peaches, pears, cherries, plums and apples rotting on the trees or on the ground. The surplus should be preserved. Growers can equip themselves at little cost with portable preserving outfits, and, with their use, convert loss into profit. The housewife, at the same time, is advised by the city or the country, is advised by the government and by the various organizations interested to increase her store of "preserves" of every sort.

The wisdom of this advice is evident. We have already felt the effects of the great war—we are, from day to day, in everything we purchase, making our financial contribution to the havoc and devastation that the war produces. The need of doing something to offset the higher cost of living is obvious. We can serve ourselves and the world at large in no better way than by eliminating a waste that is, every year, an appalling extravagance without excuse or reason.—Independent News.

LIEUTENANT SHACKLETON AND EXPLORERS ARRIVE SAFE AT PORT STANLEY

London, June 1.—Lieutenant Sir Ernest Shackleton, the antarctic explorer, has arrived safely at Port Stanley, Falkland Islands.

The news that Lieut. Shackleton was safe reached London shortly after midnight. The message was from the explorer himself and announced his arrival at Port Stanley. The message said his ship, the Endurance, "had been crushed" in a Weddell's Sea ice floe last October, but that it drifted until mid-winter, when he and his party landed on Elephant Island in the South Shetland group.

The explorer left in a small boat with five men a week later to summon help, leaving 22 men behind. All of them were well, but in a situation which demands the quickest possible relief.

The message of Lieut. Shackleton was dated Port Stanley, May 31. It said that he left Elephant Island April 24.

The gravest fears had been entertained two weeks, owing to the absence of news from the Endurance and in the House of Commons, yesterday, Premier Asquith said that the government had approved of a committee appointed by the admiralty to give advice regarding a relief expedition.

The news of the safety of Sir Ernest and the small party with him has not lessened the necessity for relief, which is even more pressing now, on behalf of the men left behind in the ice on Elephant Island, as well as in behalf of the Ross Sea party which was stranded on the great barrier through the breaking away of the relief ship, Aurora, which returned to New Zealand early in the year.

Lieutenant Sir Ernest Shackleton's expedition, which had as an object the crossing of antarctic continent from Weddell's Island to Ross Sea, started from Falkland in August, 1914. Early in the present year the Aurora returned to port in New Zealand, having broken adrift. Eight of her men were ashore when the vessel broke away and nothing has been heard from Shackleton and his companions. Falkland Islands are in the South Atlantic, off the Argentine coast.

LAW FOR CHILD DISCIPLINE

In the June Woman's Home Companion a writer says:

"The important thing for parents to understand from the first is what discipline and punishments are for. Often a child is punished merely because he has been disobedient, or angry, or violent, without the larger view that he is punished to teach him that he has done wrong, and to help him to avoid doing so again. Training, not re-education, is the great law of discipline. After one has reached maturity and does wrong, he must then suffer retribution; but while a child is growing up all discipline must exist merely in order to teach the child the right way.

"Spencer, in his book on education, tells us that the right way to train a child is to let him suffer the natural consequences of wrongdoing. That is, if he puts his finger in the fire he will be burned; if he tears his clothes, he must mend them or go ragged; if he quarrels with other children, he will soon be left to play alone. But unfortunately, this theory, while effective in its way, ignores the fact that we must take into account the moral law."

COUNT OKUMA'S TRIBUTE TO CHRISTIANITY

Count Okuma, one of Japan's prime ministers, though not a Christian, said that diplomacy, the courts and commercial interests are powerless to maintain peace and good will; the only hope is in the power of Christianity and the influence of Christians to maintain peace and righteousness in the spirit of brotherly love.

REJECT WILSON

As Mediator—Germans Would Oppose His Activity—Declare America's Activities in Behalf of Allies Have Caused Elimination.

Berlin, May 31—At the session of the Reichstag today Dr. Gustav Stresemann, national liberal, in an address rejected the idea that President Wilson would be asked as a peace mediator.

"If you take a vote of the German people," said Dr. Stresemann, "only a small majority would accept President Wilson as a mediator."

"We would not reject the peace mediation of a really neutral power, possibly the President of Switzerland but President Wilson's hand we reject and we believe a great mass of the German people approve our rejection of it."

The speaker's words were greeted with loud applause, mingled with shouts of disapproval from the socialists.

Herr Von Graaf, conservative, sharply attacked the government accusing it of weakness of dealing with the United States. He was answered sharply by Dr. Karl Helfferich, speaking for the first time as secretary of the interior.

Herr Hirsch, of the national liberal said: "Do you believe seriously that President Wilson wants to do anything favorable to Germany?"

"You know he does not if you recall the answer he sent to the emperor on the subject of breaches of international law by our enemies," said Herr Hirsch, answering his own question.

METHODISM IN THE PHILIPPINES

There are about 37,000 Methodists in the Philippines. This is half of the entire Protestant community. The accessions of last year numbered 3,826. The elaborate provision which the United States Government makes for education enables the missions to dispense with the considerable educational machinery which has to be set in motion in other mission lands. But a system of hostels for both young men and young women at the provincial high schools throughout the islands has been successfully developed.

Public Opinion

The first taste of New Post Toasties reveals the fact that something different—something better—has arrived for the breakfast table.

The secret is in the flavour—a self-developed flavour of pearly white Indian corn—not the flavour of cream and sugar upon which other flakes have to depend.

And notice, too, the appearance of New Post Toasties, particularly the tiny bubbles on the surface of each flake. These bubbles are a distinguishing feature—produced by the quick, intense heat of a new patented process of manufacture.

New Post Toasties do not "chaff" or crumble in the package, and they don't mush down in cream like other flakes. They're more substantial and are altogether more satisfactory than any flakes that have preceded them.

The proof is in the eating—have your grocer send you a package.
